Ben Hume, President, comments, "Builders and architects prefer Vista railings for a variety of reasons. First, Vista railings are the only ones available that come with an engineered design manual for loads and post placements for full compliance with U.S. and Canadian building codes. Secondly, the design flexibility of the Vista system is without equal. Third, we use the best powder coatings available and continuously test our paint coating cure systems to ensure quality. Last but not least, Vista railings have proved to be a very affordable, low-maintenance means to add to the street appeal and market value of properties."
